

URGENT PRESS RELEASE

CUBICLE CENTRE LTD.

November 2025 will see Cubicle Centre Ltd.'s 25th anniversary, and we are pleased to announce some significant changes to one of the UK's leading manufacturers of washroom cubicles and associated products.

- To improve customer experience, quality control and lead times, we welcome back Chris Thompson as Production Manager. He will work in parallel with Ben Hudson and Chace Quinn, all of whom have many years of experience and service here.
- A comprehensive business review by a team of expert advisors has led to us implementing some strategic changes to the whole business structure:
 - We have closed our subsidiary 'Dart Cubicles LLP', which was formed in 2015 to allow an ownership succession process to take place. The closure of the 'Dart' name will have no impact whatsoever on the ongoing business.
 - That process has run its 10 year course, and we are able to announce that David Thorpe, one of the founders of the business was finally able to retire earlier this year. We wish David all the best in his retirement.
- The majority of customers and suppliers will have been dealing with us pre 2015, as Cubicle Centre Ltd, and it is this legal entity, which has always remained active and owned key assets, which will revert to being the trading and operational arm of the business once again.
- New investment in the form of replacement of ageing machinery is due to commence Autumn 2025, and will see improved accuracy, quality and output rates. More news on this exciting new development will be posted on our website in due course.
- We are also seeking to add another vehicle to our delivery fleet which will allow us to carry vanity units up to 3.6m long, which our current smaller vehicle is unable to do. This will operate predominantly in the North of England on a 'there and back in the day' basis. Longer distances will be handled either by our larger HGV vehicles or our haulage subcontract partners.
- We have streamlined our product range, removing some of the less popular products such as the Cotswold range. The range of solid surface products is being extended to include wash-troughs, which are currently very popular.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank our customers for their valued support during the change process and look forward to a continuing long term business relationship.

Yours faithfully.
